HOUSE EXTENDS OPA, SLASHES POWERS

HOUSING GROUP TO BE NAMED FOR MARION

Mayor To Appoint Committee at Request of National Agency.

Action to relieve Marion's housing shortage took a new turn today when Mayor Harry L. Dowler announced he would appoint, at the request of the national housing agency in Washington, a mayor's emergency housing committee to survey housing needs in Marion and to assist in a broad program of housing relief.

The program is entirely separate from recent council action to ask that a metropolitan housing authority be set up in Marion county, Mayor Dowler said.

Mayor Receives Letter

The mayor's recent action followed receipt of a letter from Wilson W. Wyatt, national housing expediter and administrator, national housing agency, in which the national administrator asked the mayor to set up an emergency housing committee to act as a contact for the national agency. Mayor Dowler said he and other city officials now were studying the proposals of the other and added he would appoint a committee as the letter had requested.

The emergency committee would be concerned not only with veterans' housing, but with housing relief for all, persons Mayor Dowler said.

Among the duties of the committee, as outlined in Mr. Wyatt's letter are the preparation of accurate, detailed and up-to-the-minute surveys of housing needs in the community where such do not already exist, clearing away any local obstacles which might impede essential housing construction in the community, assisting in the recruitment and training of labor, breaking local bottlenecks in building materials, speeding up inspection and issuance of building permits for homes, discouraging black market activity in building materials and in rents and price support ceilings or providing new areas for home construction.

Duties of Committee

Primarily the mayor's committee is expected to act as a contact for the national housing agency, but further details of the committee's functions will have to be worked out after the program is thoroughly studied, Mayor Dowler said.

Meanwhile, the mayor was still awaiting action from the state board of housing on a resolution adopted Monday night by city council, asking that the board determine whether or not there was a need in Marion for a Metropolitan Housing Authority. Council's action was taken in connection with a city-Chamber of Commerce proposal to reopen the Lincoln Park area for Quonset-type houses for veterans.

Electrical Industry Meets for Negotiations; U. S. Weighs Coal Strike.

By The Associated Press

New efforts began today to end one of the country's oldest and biggest labor disputes, the three months old work stoppage by 75,000 CIO electrical workers in Westinghouse Electric Co. plants.

Representatives of the company and the CIO United Electrical Workers met in Pittsburgh to resume contract negotiations, which broke down a month ago. The strikers, production workers in plants in 12 states, are demanding an hourly wage increase of 18½ cents. The number of strikers involved is the second largest among the scores of labor disputes, topped only by the 400,000 AFL soft coal miners.

Called "Serious Setback"

As the contract negotiations in the coal dispute remained stalemated, government officials said the 18-day-old work stoppage had caused a "serious setback" in the reconversion program.

Civilian Production Chief John D. Small said the shutdown of the mines eventually will hit the output of autos, houses, refrigerators and other scarce goods.

Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug said that 28,000,000 tons of soft coal have been lost since the 400,000 miners were called out of

LINEUP IN UN REPORTED 8-3 AGAINST REDS

Council Slated To Pick Up Debate on Polish Charges Against Franco.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 18—Soviet Russia was reported today to have lost a strenuous battle behind closed doors to have the United Nations security council's procedure experts rule against further consideration of the Iranian case.

As the council prepared to meet at 3 p. m., the committee of experts on rules and procedure was said by informed quarters to be split eight to three, with the majority holding the case legally could be kept on the agenda.

The council was expected to resume its debate on the controversial Spanish question at the opening of the session, while the experts completed drafting majority and minority reports, expressing the committee's split opinion on the Iranian question.

Lineup Is Same

The lineup in the committee of experts was the same as that during the council debate earlier this week—Russia, Poland and France insisting that the question should be dropped.

The other eight members, led by U. S. Delegate Edward R. Stettinius Jr., have argued that the case should be kept on the agenda until May 6, the date on which Russia has promised to have all her troops out of Iran.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, was scheduled to lead off in the Spanish debate with an assault on some of the arguments advanced yesterday by Polish Delegate Oscar Lange in his plea that members of the United Nations break diplomatic relations with Franco Spain.

The British position was represented as being similar to that voiced yesterday by Stettinius: (1) That Britain wanted to see the Spanish people themselves throw out the Franco regime and (2) that it wanted this to be done without starting another civil war.

British sources said Sir Alexander's attitude would be that he welcomed a full discussion of the Spanish question but that much stronger evidence than that presented by Lange would have to be put forward to convince him the Franco government was a serious menace to world peace.

Polish Case Stated

The Polish position was set forth by Lange who declared the Franco government originally was creature of Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy, that it served in wartime as an active Axis partner and that it now has "caused a state of international friction by compelling the French Republic to close her borders with Spain by massing troops on the borders of France."

He asserted Franco Spain was a "dangerous remnant of the axis"

Marion Building Projects Among List Approved by CPA

$2,000,000 Worth of Construction Given OK in 47-County Area by Government Agency.

Several Marion industrial and commercial projects are included in an approval by Louis W. Gehring, district civilian production administrator for $2,000,000 worth of industrial and commercial building in 47 central Ohio counties. The projects included have already been started or were planned before the March 26 freeze order on commercial building.

The Columbus administrator said today his office had not completed the breakdown of projects into counties or local communities, but said he was certain Marion was among them. He expects to have the breakdown completed within the next few days. Neighboring counties also are included, he said.

H. E. Webster, assistant secretary of Marion Chamber of Commerce, was in Columbus Tuesday conferring with the production administrator on how CPA restrictions might effect local industrial and commercial building but said it was still too early to release any official information on the matter.

March 26 Date Set

Gehring declared every industrial and commercial building that did not have its footers laid prior to March 26, still was subject to the CPA restriction, designed to channel essential building materials into homes and apartments for veterans and civilians, but he added that his office was granting approval on some "border line cases" where there was evidence of an intent to build before that date.

Approval of the projects broke the restriction that had been holding back industrial and commercial construction in the central Ohio district since March 26, when the federal order restricting such construction went into effect.

Hold Generally to Line

Gehring made it clear, however, that the CPA, in approving some of the applications, is not abandoning its efforts to concentrate on home building construction.

In connection with farm construction, Gehring reported the department of agriculture was working on a special program but at present farm homes can be built on the same basis as city dwellings. An exemption of $1,000 is allowed for general farm construction work and silos and fences are exempt from all controls.

MORROW CO. MAN HELD TO GRAND JURY

Delbert M. Wright Pleads Not Guilty to Forgery Charge.

Legal action against a Mt. Gilead man suspected of flooding Marion and neighboring counties with at least 45 questionable checks amounting to about $2,000 in the last few months was taken today when municipal court bound him over to the grand jury on a charge of forgery. He pleaded guilty and waived examination. Bail was set at $7,500. The charge was filed this morning.

The accused man is Delbert M. Wright, 46, of near Mt. Gilead. He is a Mt. Gilead contractor. Wright was arrested yesterday in a downtown cafe after Charles Gallaher, manager of the Fish Sandwich Shop, had cashed a check.

Local police say that three more questionable checks allegedly passed by Wright have been brought by local merchants to the station since his arrest. All of the men immediately identified Wright, police said.

Police said that Wright has been identified by 15 Marion victims of the checks, two from Mansfield, and others from Mt. Vernon, Delaware, Waldo and Williamsport in Morrow county.

TRUMAN TO WITNESS ATLANTIC TRY-OUTS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18 — President Truman will go out into the Atlantic Monday to review maneuvers of a carrier task force of the Atlantic fleet.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross announced today that the President is leaving the White House Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock for a full week's cruise on his yacht, the "Williamsburg," to include a rendezvous with the Atlantic detachment.

The "Williamsburg," Ross said, will proceed to Norfolk, where it will be due at 8 a. m. Monday.

Two hours later Mr. Truman will board the Carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt and be taken somewhere in the Atlantic to join units of the task force.

The President will witness maneuvers until Tuesday noon, and then return to Hampton Roads aboard the carrier, and reboard the Williamsburg at 4 p. m. to resume his "vacation" cruise. Ross told a news conference:

British - Canadian - American Deadlock Over Famine Snarls Flour Cut.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18 — A British-Canadian-American deadlock today over ways to ease the world food crisis delayed an order which would put this nation on a diet of less bread and flour.

Representatives of the three countries met yesterday at another of a long series of meetings of the combined food board. But they failed again to agree on what each should do in the way of contributing wheat and flour to famine-stricken areas.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson has ready an order to cut American supplies of flour 25 per cent, but he is witholding his signature pending further efforts of the three countries to agree on joint relief efforts.

The American government is taking the position the major burden is falling upon this country and that Canada and Great Britain could contribute more than they have offered.

It is the official view here that both Britain and Canada could cut deeper into their reserves and reduce their own consumption further.

The White House announced that President Truman would discuss the food crisis in a radio address at 7:15 p. m. tomorrow night over the four major networks and the Chief Executive's famine emergency committee called upon the government to adopt still more rigid food conservation measures.

The committee headed by former War Food Administrator Chester Davis released, with Mr. Truman's approval, a letter of recommendations it sent to the White House April 9.

The letter declared present voluntary measures were inadequate and said existing price control regulations were causing excessive feeding of grain to livestock.

It urged the government to hike ceiling prices on corn and by-product protein feeds—an action which, the committee said, would curtail livestock feeding and thereby make more grain available for food for the hungry abroad.

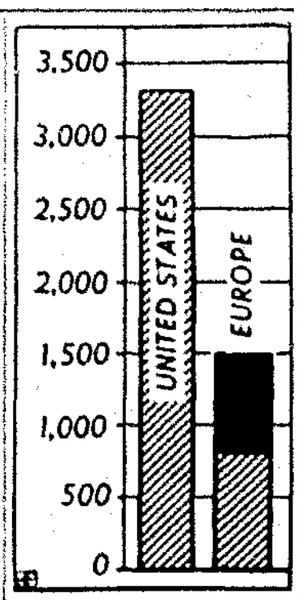
There was no immediate indication whether any action would be taken on the corn price recommendation.

Urging immediate adoption of the proposed flour restriction order, the famine committee declared the government's voluntary program under which consumers were asked to eat 40 per cent less wheat products would not save as much as had been expected.

The committee also urged requirements for closer trimming of meat to save fat, a ban on the use of edible tallow and oleo oils in soap making and a priority system for makers of farm machinery and parts.

LAUSCHE TO BE AT DAM

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Congressman J. Other speakers will include Edward Bearce, president of the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district.



DIET COMPARISON. This chart, based on figures of the UNRRA, compares estimated daily European diet with the daily American diet in calories for one person. CHINESE REDS HOLD 2 YANKS

Fate of American Soldiers Uncertain as Reds Take Changchun Hotel.

By The Associated Press

CHUNGKING, April 18 — The fate of an American officer and his pilot was hidden by the smoke of battle in Changchun today as Chinese communist forces captured the Yamato hotel, where the two had been staying.

Destroyed telephone communications made impossible a check into the fate of the two — Maj. Robert B. Rigg of Chicago, assistant military attache, and M/Sgt. Clayton Pond of Portland, Ore.

News of the capture of the hotel from government forces came in a fragmentary dispatch sent from the embattled city by Associated Press Correspondent Tom Masterson, cut off there with four other correspondents.

Marshall Arrives

As General Marshall, special U. S. envoy, flew here in a supreme effort to bring peace to Manchuria, gunfire roared through the streets of Changchun. Communist forces threatened to overwhelm completely the small national garrison fighting from sandbag defenses in the center of the city. Government planes dropped urgently-needed ammunition to the besieged force.

Marshall arrived in mid-afternoon and was greeted by Madame Chiang Kai-shek, Communist Gen. Chou En-Lai, and other leaders of both factions.

He told correspondents he was plunging immediately into the Manchurian and Chinese political problems "but I certainly won't be able to say anything about the situation until I have talked to all sides."

A government dispatch from Changchun said the Communists captured a great part of the city after 12 hours of severe fighting.

PORTER SAYS BILL WRECKS PRICE CONTROL

Truman Handed Worst Defeat of Career; 9-Month Plan Wins 355-42.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18 — The house voted overwhelmingly today to continue OPA for nine months, but in a form OPA Administrator Paul Porter said would wreck price control. It was one of President Truman's worst legislative defeats since he entered the White House a year ago.

The roll-call vote on passage was 355 to 42.

The house, meeting at 10 a. m., two hours earlier than usual, tossed the amendment-ridden bill over to the senate, where the White House said today that President Truman hopes for "much better results."

Bloc Does Job

A bloc of Democrats, chiefly from the south, combined with Republicans yesterday to so amend the bill that Chester Bowles, economic stabilizer, said the house had started "a joy ride toward economic disaster."

Earlier, the house refused by a 370 to 20 roll call vote to shelve the continuation bill, rejecting a motion by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) to send it back to the banking committee.

OPA Chief Porter estimated that if the agency collapses because of congressional amendments, consumer prices might skyrocket as much as 50 per cent over present levels.

On final passage by the house, 205 Democrats, 148 Republicans and two minor party members voted for the bill. Opposing were 33 Republicans and nine Democrats.

Bowles termed the measure "impossible" after a 35-minute conference with the President.

Asked by reporters if he would resign if it passed both houses in its present form, he would not say. He did say, however, that he did not see "what could be done" to maintain price controls under it.

"Price control would be impossible as the bill stands now," he declared.

Leaders Rap Measure

The bill's major clauses now call for prices guaranteeing "reasonable profit" to all manufacturers and distributors; scrapping government food subsidies; repeal of the low-cost clothing production program, and an end to the "cost absorption" controls limiting prices on autos, radios and the like.

Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles deplored the house measure as the beginning of "a joy-ride toward economic disaster," OPA Chief Paul Porter said if the house action were sustained in the senate it "amount to repeal of price control."

But the house expected to toss the bill as is over to the senate in short order. Whether it will fare better in that body was problematical.

So great was President Truman's congressional set-back on economic policy that rumors swept the capitol that both Bowles and Porter, would resign. However, Bowles went on a radio network and declared he expected to "see this thing through to the finish."

Only rent control survived the house rebellion unscathed. The chamber beat back all efforts to revise rent ceilings.

What Was Done

With the legislation in control of Republicans, aided by a contingent of Democrats, here's what the house has done to OPA—subject to senate concurrence:

1. Decreed on a 209 to 189 roll call vote that OPA's new life span beyond June 30 shall be no more than nine months. President Truman asked for a full year extension—and without amendments to the present law.

2. Ordered scrapping of the government's $2,000,000,000 annual subsidy program, used to hold down food costs. The amendment stipulates that such subsidies must stop by January 1 and OPA must allow price increases to compensate for reductions in subsidies. The $715,000,000 meat subsidy was ordered stopped June 30, with an equivalent rise in meat prices OPA estimates an end to the subsidies will boost food costs eight per cent.

3. Wrote in a "cost-plus" path

U. S. Tells Public It Has Stake in Speedy End To Coal Strike

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—The government carried its concern over the 18-day coal strike directly to the people today.

Civilian Production Chief John D. Small declared sternly every citizen in the nation "has a definite stake" in the bituminous shutdown because eventually the output of autos, houses, refrigerators and other scarce goods will be hit.

Simultaneously, Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug, in his capacity as solid fuels administrator, reported 28,000,000 tons of soft coal have been lost since John L. Lewis called his 400,000 bituminous miners out of the pits April 1.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and his aides were being put to a severe test of diplomacy and perseverance in trying to get negotiations going again between Lewis and the soft coal operators.

No One Budges

Neither side has budged from its position of a week ago when Lewis stormed out of the contract negotiations. He said it was "futile" to continue talking as long as the operators refused to commit themselves on his proposals for improved mine safety and a union-administered health and welfare fund.

The operators, declining to agree to those principles in advance, insisted that Lewis talk about wages and hours for a new contract, to replace the one he terminated April 1.

Schwellenbach has said there would be little use calling the two sides together until some ground was relinquished by one or the other.

There was a strong feeling among government labor officials that this might require some time, and that the public was not aware of what this might mean in lost production.

In his report last night Small said reconversion was suffering "a setback which will steadily grow worse day by day" and he added that "scores of plants are down because of lack of fuel."

Some of Findings

Here are some of Small's findings:

Some railroads may be forced to curtail service in the next two weeks; steel production is dropping steadily; about 15 small brick plants essential to the housing program have been closed.

The country would lose 750,000 tons of steel ingots this month, even at current operating rates, but mills already are planning to use part of their coal supplies to bank furnaces and coke ovens.

"Steel production would, if the strike still continued, then drop off drastically and it would take weeks to restore normal production," Small said.

Small asserted repercussions would spread from the steel mills, back to auto and other plants, then to wholesalers and retailers and finally to the consumers.

Krug, saying "frantic appeals" were being received from industrial consumers facing slow-downs or shutdowns of operations be-

WORSHIPPERS CROWD JERUSALEM STREETS

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, April 18—Through streets lined with barbed wire barricades and teeming with armed troops, thousands streamed into this ancient city today to see Christian worshippers recreate with symbolic ceremonies the last hours before Christ was crucified.

An undercurrent of tension prevailed throughout the Holy City as Palestine's three-cornered Arab-Jewish-British political controversy was complicated by a country-wide strike of 50,000 civil servants, who are demanding increased pay and better working conditions.

Easter observance of the Western and Eastern Christian faiths coincide this year, making the Holy Sepulchre site and other sacred places more crowded with worshippers than usual.

The ancient rites of Maundy Thursday began at daybreak and will continue all day as sect after sect stages its interpretation of the events of the day on which Christ led disciples into the "upper room" for "The Last Supper."

Marion City Hospital Enrolled in State and American Groups

The Marion City hospital, under the sponsorship of the Women's Board of the Marion City Hospital, is now a member of the Ohio Hospital Association and the American Hospital Association, it was announced today. Final details for enrolling the city's institution in the two associations were completed when the board met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Warren Sawyer, White Oaks Farm, with Mrs. Robert Owen and Mrs. Robert White as hostesses.

Affiliation with the state and American associations is a marked step forward in the history of the hospital, Mrs. Margaret Sandberg, superintendent of the hospital, said today. Mrs. Sandberg also is a member of the board of trustees of the Ohio Hospital Association.

Membership in the state and national associations will give the hospital the privilege of sending delegates to the annual conventions of the two organizations. Payment of the hospital's memberships in the associations is only one of the many services rendered the hospital by the board.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's relief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Spanish Town Enclosed by France in Dilemma

By MEL MOST
AP Newsfeatures Writer

LLIVIA, Franco-Spanish Border, April 18—Llivia is in a dilemma. This tiny enclave of Spanish territory completely surrounded by France has become the forbidden village of the French border country since the closing of the frontier with Spain.

Spanish carabineros with mausers and French republican guards with submachine guns patrol the fields around this picturesque ancient agglomeration of 1,500 Spaniards.

The three main groups of burghers are disturbed. Shopkeepers are deprived of a lucrative black market trade with France which has made Llivia Spain's most expensive non-resort village. Border smugglers no longer can bring in and take out goods. Both are pinching more than ever the farm hands, now unable to work on nearby French farms. Only the peasants don't care.

One Point Open

The one place on the main French-Spanish border that cannot be closed is the point where the international road from Llivia to Puigcerda crosses it. Neither side can close it by the terms of a treaty dating from 1660.

Two French roads cut across the small international thoroughfare. At the crossings French customs officers now are reinforced by gendarmes. Spanish carabinero posts at both ends of the road are reinforced by guards. Normally the road carries good stocks of provisions for the people of Llivia from Puigcerda, but these have dwindled to a trickle with such strict control over comings and goings that even Falangists have a hard time getting permission to go from Spain.

French border inhabitants or peasants with fields in the enclave may go right through the town provided they stick to the road. They are watched carefully to see that they do not enter the houses, or the village's two cafes.

They pick their way, among the children playing in the street and look enviously at the well-stocked shopwindows of merchants with whom they may not deal.

Talk Permitted

But they often stop and chat with the few French merchants long-settled here for nothing forbids doorstep conversations with inhabitants.

When the French maquis took possession of the surrounding countryside in 1944, the Alcalde who heads the village sent for help and a score of carabineros arrived to set up in a house on the main street. Just what they could have done against the Maquis still is a matter of grave doubt in the villagers' minds. But no notable incidents occurred.

But Llivia will be glad when it's over. Especially the old merchant at whom customs officers used to wink when he brought his cart full of fine foodstuffs for the French families in the neighborhood over the road to the crossing.

SINEK REELECTED BY CITY ICE AND FUEL CO.

Annual Meeting Held Today in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, April 18—William J. Sinek of Chicago, was reelected president of the City Ice & Fuel Company at the company's annual meeting here today. He informed stockholders of satisfactory earnings progress in the first quarter of 1946 after a record profit year in 1945. Sinek outlined plans for the expansion and diversification of activities of the company, which operates plants in 26 states, Canada and Mexico.

He stressed particularly the intent of the company to develop its annual volume of beer distribution to 1,000,000 barrels, a goal which would place City Ice among leaders in the brewery industry.

In a review of management planning, Sinek told stockholders that ice production would be increased to keep pace with demand for additional refrigeration services of many sorts. He spoke particularly of the growing need for improved preservation of vitamin content of fresh fruits and vegetables.

In a brief review of employe relations, Sinek told stockholders of inauguration of an employe training course built around audio-visual education techniques developed during the war by the armed forces. Sinek stated that the company is pressing an intensified program of advertising and promotion on a national scale.

Stockholders voted at the meeting to fix the number of company directors at 13.

Officers of the company were reelected. They are: Henry F. Adams of Cincinnati, Richard C. Muckerman of St. Louis, Walter B. Muckerman of St. Louis, F. F. Rhode of Chicago, William A. Schmidt of Chicago, vice presidents; T. J. Beck, G. H. Genger and H. S. Humason, all of Chicago, assistant vice presidents; Harry W. Dunkle, secretary-treasurer, Daniel J. Mulvihill, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer, William F. Zeidler, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer, Eugene F. Rosfelder, controller, and Eugene P. Ellenberger, assistant controller, all of Chicago.

DELAWARE CO. JUDGE TO QUIT

Wickham Announces He Will Return to Private Practice of Law.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, April 18—Delaware County Common Pleas Judge Fred R. Wickham, has announced he plans to resign because there is not enough work for the court. He explained that the court duties do not require the full-time services of any man at present and said he would reenter private law practice in Delaware.

Judge Wickham, first appointed in 1937, said he would submit his resignation to Gov Frank J Lausche as soon as matters now in process of decision can be disposed of in common pleas court.

Judge Wickham has been judge of common pleas court since October, 1937, when he was selected by the late Gov. Martin L Davey to succeed Judge H W. Jewell. The appointment followed Judge Jewell's appointment to the Ohio board of pardon and parole.

During his nine years on the common pleas bench, Judge Wickham compiled an unusual record and was responsible for installation of a modern system of investigation and supervision for cases where probation is indicated. The system was established in Delaware in advance of recent state statutes on the subject.

In announcing his resignation Judge Wickham said "It is with the greatest regret that I have finally decided to resign from the bench and return to private practice of law. The matter has been under consideration for several months and I have resisted the urge to quit judicial work for more than a year."

The judge added 'There is not sufficient number of cases in court any more to keep me busy as I must be in order to enjoy my work. For instance, in 1941 we tried only four jury cases, in 1945 only two, and so far this year we have only two short jury trials. I can no longer endure that sort of non-activity. By returning to private practice I shall again have the stimulation of being busy and also be a more productive member of this community.'

Sheriff's Office Seeks Clue in Burglary

The Marion county sheriff's office today continued to seek clues in connection with the Dale's restaurant break-in at Prospect Tuesday night.

Fingerprints were taken during yesterday's investigation, the sheriff's office reported, but no other clues were found which might lead to the apprehension of the person or persons who ransacked the building and escaped with between $250 and $300 in cash.

Ed Fetter, Prospect marshall, said the cash register was looted and money taken from seven or eight other places where it had been hidden. The building was entered by breaking and crawling through a window in the women's rest room.

PROSPECT EASTER SERVICE

The Easter goal for Sunday school attendance at the Methodist church in Prospect has been set at 200, Rev. J. R. Wynd, pastor, announced. At morning worship Sunday, the sacrament of baptism for infants and small children will be observed and an Easter message presented. Last Sunday, 28 adults and 12 young people were received into membership of the church, Rev Wynd reported. For the Pleasant Sunday night service at 7:45 a sound motion picture, "The Story of the Prodigal Son," will be presented a story of human interest and emotions that carries a divine message of eternal importance, not an interpretation, but the story itself as Jesus told it." The service will be open to the public.

A bottle of ammonia and a rag kept near your range will come in handy when food or grease has been spilled on the stove.

NAZI ADMITS GUILT IN POLISH ATROCITIES

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, April 18—Hans Frank, the Nazi governor of German-occupied Poland, told the international military tribunal today that "I feel terrible guilt within me" for the atrocities of the Nazi regime.

Speaking in a loud, clear voice, Frank held the court with his candid admissions of guilt as he virtually threw himself upon its mercy.

He freely admitted the Nazi crimes against the Jews and his share of the guilt in those crimes—a guilt which he said would "not be erased in thousands of years."

"Did you participate in the destruction of the Jews?" his attorney asked.

"I say yes!" Frank replied. 'I can not allow it before my conscience that responsibility for this should be handed to small people alone. I never installed concentration camps for Jews but if Adolf Hitler turned over that dreadful responsibility to people of his, it must be mine too."

He said he would 'bear responsibility" for the events in Poland during his tenure as governor but hedged with a claim that his authority was 'extremely limited' and that he had no control over the SS.

TRUMAN-NAVY FIGHT EASED

Secretary Forrestal Agrees Some Form of Merger Is Needed by U. S.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—Secretary of the Navy Forrestal's agreement that some form of unification is desirable steered the caustic merger controversy between the sea service and the White House into smoother waters today.

Forrestal carried the peace gesture still further with firm advice to Navy officers to pipe down on anti-merger "speeches or other propaganda" and stick to congressional committee testimony.

Forrestal indicated no action was contemplated against Real Adm A S Merrill whose comments to newsmen last week were said by the White House to have prompted President Truman's original criticism of what he termed Navy lobbying.

Follows Conference

Forrestal gave reporters his ideas upon emerging from a 90-minute meeting yesterday with Mr Truman. Also present were Assistant Secretary John L Sullivan and Adm Chester W Nimitz, chief of naval operations.

The cabinet officer said everybody was agreed on the desirability for a better mechanism, 'which means unification,' but he added that the form unification should assume was something still to be worked out.

Forrestal's reference to "unification" contrasts with the original Navy position that while there is a need for an overall coordinating structure, unification of the Army and Navy into a single command is neither necessary nor helpful.

A senate military subcommittee has drafted a bill proposing a "department of common defense" which would contain the separate but coordinated arms of the Army, Navy and an Air Force. The measure contains much of what the Army and the President had requested as well as some of what the Navy had offered in its counter-proposal for a 'national security plan." This latter suggested including foreign policy as well as military planning in any general organization.

Truman Stirs It Up

The long-standing dispute took on a rougher character last week when Mr Truman rapped out an anti-merger lobbying he said was being done by admirals and others in Navy.

STRIKES

the pits on April 1 by UMW President John L. Lewis.

In other developments on the labor front, the 3,500 CIO International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers were to vote on a contract agreement which may end a 10-day strike at Anaconda Copper Mining properties in Butte, Mont. A federal conciliator said the tentative agreement called for wage increases of 18½ cents an hour and six months' retroactive pay of 9½ cents an hour.

The 155,000 residents of Flint, Mich., remained without public transportation today as the Flint Trolley Coach, Inc., said negotiations with its 129 striking CIO drivers had collapsed shortly after the apparent end of the one-day walkout was announced.

In Akron, O., 900 AFL workers in the Barberton plant of the Diamond Match Co struck in support of demands for pay booosts and a union spokesman predicted the walkout would spread throughout the match industry.

About 1 000 members of the AFL National Matchworkers Council are seeking wage hikes of 18½ cents an hour, said President F. B Gerhart.

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—The coal strike could be settled by safety provisions in the mines and more adequate assistance to miners injured on duty, John W. Gibson, first assistant secretary of labor asserted here.

'I wouldn't hesitate to predict," he said, 'that once these two issues are out of the way, the strike will come to an end.

Mackenzie Rakes Russian's Blasts at U. S. Policies

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

General MacArthur, answering Russian criticism of his administration in Japan, has told the four-power Allied council in about so many hand-picked words that consideration of his past actions isn't its job.

This blunt reply has been capped by Brig. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's military government officer. Whitney declared that Russia's question of Allied occupation policy, "whether in good faith or not is a warning that success of the occupation is threatened," though the Russian delegate later said the position shouldn't be interpreted that way. Both these statements from the American camp fit into the picture created recently by charges leveled at the United States (and Britain) by Russian publications and radio.

Dewitt Mackenzie

For example, we hear the Moscow radio quoting the magazine New Times as saying that the greatest danger facing the UN "arises from the efforts of certain definite circles to make the United Nations an instrument for the domination of some countries over others, to turn it into a weapon of the Anglo-American bloc." The New Times also declares that "promises given during the war to the Philippines are not being kept," and that the formal independence to be given the Philippines is "being joined with complete domination of the country's economy by America."

What's The Answer?

Well, what's the answer to these harsh accusations against Uncle Sam? Is he trying to establish hegemony over the Philippines and Japan?

American Secretary of State Byrnes stated his position succinctly in a pronouncement of policy on February 28 last when he said:

"We will do nothing to break the world into exclusive blocs or spheres of influence. In this atomic age we will not seek to divide a world which is one and undivisible."

That's clear enough and true. Still it's equally true that this policy doesn't relieve the United States of obligations which it incurred when it freed the Philippines from Spain half a century ago, and again when it played the major role in conquering Japan and thereby had placed upon it one of the greatest trusts any nation ever had to assume.

OPA

requiring OPA to fix prices so as to guarantee each manufacturer and distributor, including retailers, a "reasonable profit" on each item produced and handled. This amendment was approved 259 to 137.

4. Wrote in a forced-liquidation formula, whereby OPA would be required to lift price ceilings on any commodities whose output attains a rate equivalent to 1941. Industry advisory committees would be given a large voice in determining when their products should be removed from price control.

5. Repealed OPA's maximum average price order, known as MAP, by which the agency requires manufacturers to produce low cost clothing. OPA said this amendment, if it becomes law, would result in a 10 per cent increase in clothing costs.

6. Prohibited OPA from interfering with normal profit or discount margins of retailers and wholesales on "reconversion item" such as automobiles, refrigerators and radios. This would repeal a large portion of OPA's retail cost absorption program.

Reversing itself, the house voted 223 to 172 to retain price controls on meat, after earlier voting 139 to 122 to erase meat from OPA's control list.

Bowles Warns U. S. Revisions of OPA Will Cost Plenty

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles contends proposed amendments to the price control act—some already approved by the house—would cost the public "billions upon billions of dollars."

Here's the way he summed it up in a radio address last night:

Elimination of the OPA regulations requiring manufacturers to turn out low-priced clothing—total increase in the clothing bill of "more than $1,000,000,000" annually; extra cost to the average family, $30 a year.

Removal of food subsidies—$2,500,000,000 annually; milk up 2 to 2½ cents a quart, cheese 11 cents a pound, bread one cent or more a loaf, canned fruits and vegetables 5 cents a can, meat 3 to 5 cents a pound.

Revision of farm parity standards—average food prices would increase "an additional 15 per cent," amounting to "another $125" yearly per average family.

Rents — Changes proposed, Bowles said, would increase rents $600,000,000 a year—"another $40 added to the living costs of every American family which rents a home."

Elimination of authority to control cotton prices—"For every one cent increase in the price of raw cotton there would be another $50,000,000 charge against the American people."

Restriction of cost absorption—This amendment would "increase the price of your new automobile by an average of $85."

The profit-on-each-product measure—"It would cost the American people $1,500,000,000 a year."

Elimination of price ceilings on meat—"If meat prices rose only 20 per cent, the result would total $1,300,000,000 a year. That's another $37 for every average family in the country."

The house rejected the rent amendment and first passed but then killed the one to lift price ceilings from meat.

PARTY'S "HARMONY" CAUCUS BACKFIRES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—An extraordinary 'harmony" session of house Democrats failed today to dispel the discord that has plagued party ranks.

The latest burst of dissatisfaction with the way party affairs are going came after last night's caucus from lawmakers representing northern industrial districts.

One of these legislators, Rep Hook of Michigan, said a "wide open split" now exists.

Heretofore, southern members of the house have been most vocal in their complaints of disunity.

Talking with newsmen after last night's meeting, the northerners contended their Dixie colleagues were allowed to control the 90-minute session.

They said anti-administration Democrats dominate the special 11-member committee appointed to work as a liaison group with Democratic national headquarters in an effort to promote "more harmonious relations."

The caucus had been called on demand of more than 50 house members aroused over what they termed recent "boners" at national headquarters.

The resolution creating the special group specified that "no member of the party should be penalized, punished, or criticized for the free expression of his honest convictions."

Jack Quinn, Oldtime Pitching Great, Dies

By The Associated Press

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 18—Jack Quinn, big league pitcher for a quarter century, died last night three months after he was stricken with a liver infection. He was 60.

Quinn, whose proper name was Jack Quinn Pocus, reached the zenith of his career as a spitball pitcher with the pennant-winning Philadelphia Athletics of the American league in 1929 and 1930. His last season in big league baseball was with the Cincinnati Reds in 1945.

SAYS VETS' RIGHTS TO JOBS NEGLECTED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—The rights of war veterans to their peacetime jobs are being neglected by certain sectors of the public, Ohio Selective Service asserted today.

'With each passing day, the public is becoming less conscious of the sacrifices made by the veterans who left their jobs and homes to enter the armed forces," State Director C W Goble wrote local boards and reemployment committeemen.

'Unless we, as protectors of the veterans' reemployment rights vigorously fight for those rights, no one else will do the job for them."

Col Goble referred in his letter to a decision by the U S circuit court of appeals in New York that reversed the favorable job priority decision of the Fishgold case. (The Fishgold case upheld the ruling of selective service that a veteran had a job priority for a year over any non-veteran.)

'Following the Fishgold case reversal," he said, "an immediate change in policy became noticeable among employers throughout Ohio."

As a result Goble said, a number of major corporations in Ohio entered into new agreements abolishing the veterans' one-year job priority.

He urged local boards to "make immediate record of all facts" in connection with any violations and 'negotiate with the employer for a settlement."

BRITISH LOAN WILL PASS, BACKERS SA

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—A margin of 12 to 18 votes in favor of the $3,750,000,000 British loan was claimed today by administration aides in the senate.

The claim was based on informal and tentative counts, giving 40 Republican votes that would split about even on the proposal, as debate on the measure entered its second day.

Administration forces privately they may have a tough task in repelling several moves to amend the bill.

Word came from the state department negotiated the agreement that amendment would necessitate fresh consultations with the British. That probably would mean no loan authorization this year in view of the expected summer-fall campaigning recess for congress.

Amendments expected to be pressed include:

1. A substitute calling for outright gift of $1,250 000 000 to Great Britain.

2. Floating a British loan bond issue in this country, with subscribers cautioned to expect payment only as Great Britain repays this government.

3. Provision for making permanent the 99-year U. S. leases on military bases in British West Hemisphere possessions.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, April 18—Sheriff Homer S. Rooks has been notified the farm home of George Vollrath on State Route 38, near Chuckery was entered and ransacked Sunday night about the same time the homes of William Schmidt and John Schmidt of near Chuckery were entered.

The sheriff also said that the sheriff of Shelby county was here Wednesday in connection with the robberies of several homes in that county recently. The Shelby county official told Sheriff Rooks that he believes the robberies have been committed by a gang from Springfield.

At the Vollrath home a toaster and $20 in currency were reported stolen. At the William Schmidt home more than $500 worth of woodworking tools and other articles, including money, were stolen. Nothing was reported missing from the John Schmidt home.

The sheriff said he thinks there may be a connection between the robberies of the homes in the Chuckery community and the burglaries of homes near Marysville, and near Pharisburg and Richwood on Sunday night, April 7.

Mat Fisher versus Ed's Big Toe

Mat Fisher's our local weather man ... and planning for the picnic of our town Improvement Club, Mat persuades us to postpone it until Tuesday—since it's going to rain for three days, starting Saturday the 8th.

But Ed Whortle claims he can feel rain in his big toe—and he says there isn't a drop in prospect for at least three days!

Well, it's bright and sunny on the 8th—and 9th—and 10th. But come the day of the picnic, it pours rain like Jupiter Pluvius—and we hold it in Ma Hoskins' parlor, drinking beer and roasting hot dogs.

Of course, Ed razzes Mat no end. But nobody's sore. In fact, they like Mat just a little better, being an expert and being wrong. (And from where I sit, a stormy day indoors before a fire makes a hot dog and a glass of beer extra appetizing!)

Government Moves To Speed Flow of Wheat To Market

The Marion county AAA office received notice today that the U. S. department of agriculture will buy wheat from farmers, for immediate delivery to the Commodity Credit Corp., at the market price on any later date the seller may elect on or before March 31, 1947.

In explaining the new regulation, local AAA officials said farmers now can deliver their wheat to local elevators now and receive payment on any day up to and including March 31, 1947. The amount the farmer is paid for his wheat will depend upon the market price on that particular day.

Reason for the new regulation, AAA officials said, was the government believed many farmers were holding wheat in storage for a possible rise in the present ceiling price. The department's offer is being made to speed the movement of wheat off the farms for relief of the current famine emergency abroad. Under the new regulations a farmer may deliver his wheat to a local elevator now, for which he will receive a certificate of delivery, and the price he receives will depend on the ceiling price of wheat on the day he wishes to make the sale. The adjustments in price will be made through the Commodity Credit Corp.

Offer Open Until July 1

Present price of wheat in Marion county is $1.76½ at the farm or 1.77½ delivered, local dealers report.

The offer will be open to farmers until July 1, 1946, unless closed at an earlier date by announcement if the CCC obtains enough wheat to fill its requirements before July 1. Wheat eligible for purchase will be that which would have been eligible for CCC loans under the 1945 loan program, AAA officials said.

On or after the date of delivery, the seller may select any date subsequent to the date on which he makes his selection and on or before March 31, 1947, as the date on which the purchase price may be determined. The price will be the market price as determined by the production and marketing administration as of the date selected by the seller. Only one date for determining the purchase price may be made for any one lot of wheat.

No Partial Payments

If the producer does not inform the CCC in writing of his selection of a date for the purchase price, the purchase price will be the market price on March 31, 1947. No partial payments will be made.

Under a ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue, payments received by producers, who select a market price on or after Jan. 1, 1947 for wheat delivered to CCC under this program, may be reported for income tax purposes as income received in 1947.

Traditional Easter Dinner

EASTER HAM . . . The secret's in the stuffing. . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Ham is traditional for Easter, so we hope you can get one this year. A really beautiful, if simple, dinner table setting is right for this lovely holiday, too. So bring out your best, cherished Irish linen cloth, handsomest china, prettiest crystal and silver. And top the whole thing off with the most attractive spring flowers your area offers. Yellow jonquils or yellow centered daisies are perhaps the most Easter-like, if you can get them.

We suggest that you serve the first course of this dinner in the living room, so that the second can be placed on the table, for serving family-style, while the fruit juice is being consumed, and all will be ready when the family troops into the dining room.

Easter Dinner

Fruit juice with sherbet, baked ham with Caraway stuffing, baked potatoes, asparagus with Herb topping, poppyseed rolls, green salad with sliced hardcooked eggs, strawberry Bavarian cream.

The recipe for ham stuffing which we give you here is an old Maryland favorite.

Easter Ham with Caraway Stuffing

Preliminaries to preparation: If a country ham is used, boil it until tender before skinning. Modern ready-to-use hams can be skinned at once. Trim off extra fat, leaving only a rich coating. Score the fat side and stud with whole cloves. Turn the ham over so that the fat side is down. With a thin-bladed sharp knife, slit the ham from end to end, down to the bone. Work the meat underneath, carefully, from the bone with the same sharp knife. Lift the bone out.

6-8 pound pre-cooked ham, ¼ cup brown sugar, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, 2-3 inch square piece of ham fat, 4-ounce can mushrooms, sliced, ¼ cup raisins, ½ onion, finely minced, ¼ teaspoon caraway seeds, ¼ cup finely minced celery, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 eggs, if desired.

Cut the ham fat into small bits and try out over low heat until the bits are "cracklings." Drain mushrooms and set aside liquid. Saute the mushrooms to delicate brown in the hot fat. Remove from heat. Add the raisins, onion, caraway seeds (or powdered caraway), celery, salt and crumbs. Mix well. Add as much of the mushroom liquid as is necessary, to moisten crumbs. Toss together. If more compact stuffing is desired, add egg along with the mushroom liquid. Stuff hollow of prepared ham (pre-cooked, boned and studded with whole cloves). Sew up the cut or lace up with skewers. Place on baking rack (fat side up) in roasting pan. Mix brown sugar and mustard. Spread over the top of the ham. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1½ hours.

Herb Topping for Asparagus

¼ cup butter or fortified margarine, Yolk of one egg, dash cayenne, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, ½ teaspon dried thyme, 2 or 3 bits of leaves of tarragon, lemon juice.

Blend, adding lemon juice to taste. Shape into individual rolls to top each serving of asparagus. Or make one patty and top the dish of hot asparagus.

No Serious Frost Damage Seen Here

Most fruit trees, strawberries and growing plants in the Marion county area have escaped damage from recent frosts, local farm authorities report.

Although there is believed to be some damage to local peach trees, other fruit buds appear to be unharmed. County Agricultural Agent Arthur H. Smith said he had received no reports of crop damage from farmers.

Recent cold weather, however, has stopped the growth of many fruit buds and flowers, and an uneven growth in fruit blossoms on the same tree and in the same cluster is particularly noticeable, the county agent reports.

ACCIDENT REPORT

An accident was reported between cars driven by Earl J. Stoner, 24, of Cardington and Mrs. Florence Windhurst of 179½ West Center street at Church and South Main streets Wednesday, at 2:30 p. m. Police said the accident occurred when Mrs. Windhurst pulled away from the curb as Stoner was driving by. George D. Haberman, 16, of 445 Delaware avenue told police he struck a car belonging to W. R. Leonard, parked on front of 407 Olney avenue, Thursday at 8 a. m. when his car went out of control.

TO CONFER DEGREE ON DR. VERSTEEG

District Superintendent To Receive Honor in May.

At the commencement next month, Union college will confer the degree of doctor of literature on Dr. John M. Versteeg, superintendent of the Lima district of the Ohio Annual Conference of the Methodist church. The Lima district includes the Methodist churches situated in part of Marion county and other counties west of here.

Superintendent of this district since February, 1941, Dr. Versteeg came from a fourteen pastorate in Cincinnati, prior to which he had pastorates in Pittsburgh and Newark, N. J.

He came to this country at the age of 11, when his father came to be pastor of a Dutch speaking congregation in Paterson, N. J. Dr. Versteeg, who received a doctorate of the [illegible] history, is also a doctor of sacred theology from the Methodist college and received the degree of master of arts from Ohio Wesleyan university.

Author of [illegible] he served as professor in Biblical literature at the University of Cincinnati. He is the author of many articles and of many articles for the religious press.

Dr. Versteeg is also active as a public speaker and for many years was labor leader, was for 11 years chairman of the social service commission of the Ohio conference and is one of 12 elected by the General Conference of the Methodist church to study its Methodist future. He is past president of the Council of Churches of Greater Cincinnati and of the Greater Cincinnati Ministers League. Letters from Our Readers

EDITORIAL CRITICIZED

Editor of The Star: Your editorial, "One Bad Cop," in The Star on April 12, is a masterpiece of contradictory content and of the many that you have in the past and will in future, is indeed a threat of encouragement to the rest million teachers in the United States. However, each sentence that you write in this editorial is no more than your own opinion. You aver that in regard to teachers' wages "prices are prospered and never affected." This is false, as during these past two years, proposed and effected in many of the states, and indeed in a few communities in Ohio. Admittedly, however, Ohio as a state does not show up so well in the matter of paying teachers adequate salaries as it should, yet that our state is not in a position able to pay but little in performance.

You further affirm in your editorial that "teaching is not an integral part of production." This is a strange statement to make in regard to any service rendered in a complex civilized society. Many occupations today, your own included, are not a part of our system of materialistic production which is doubtless what you mean, however, modern thinking on this problem presumes that all workers are producers in the sense that they offer the public goods, services, entertainment, or inspiration. All such persons are entitled to receive a fair and adequate income and it is seldom today that anyone enters otherwise.

As to your statement that "over-manned non-productive occupations take what they can get" you will hardly expect the teacher who has 45 to 50 pupils in the room to appreciate your inference that schools need fewer teachers to do the work. This last statement of yours is harsh and should and makes one wonder.

Your editorial continues, "school teachers as a group have only one way out of their low wage dilemma, which is to prove that they are not necessarily bound to their profession." School superintendents will not thank you for this remark, as during the past few years they have been finding out that dissatisfied members of teachers are loath to their profession. However, there is another way out. Teachers have been learning during the past few years that proper organization will point the way to better salaries and working conditions for them as it has done for other groups.

Your editorial provokes reading and re-reading. What motive you have in publishing such an item at this time we do not know, but we do know that such a lack of progressive social thinking as this editorial of yours evidences is seldom met with today.

CHURCH FILLED FOR PRE-EASTER SERVICE

Miss Margaret Huffman on School Clubs' Program.

In the fifth of a series of annual pre-Easter services sponsored by Girl Reserves and H-Y clubs of Harding High school, Miss Margaret Huffman, director of religious education at Epworth Methodist church, spoke this morning to a capacity audience of 350 Harding High school students and faculty members in the Central Christian church.

Following an organ prelude by Mrs. Virgil Curl the congregation sang "When Morning Gilds the Skies." Ann Ferguson gave the call to worship, followed by the morning lesson read by Dorothy Decker. After singing of "Ride on in Majesty," Miss Huffman gave the sermonette.

In her address, "The Cross in Our Today," Miss Huffman emphasized the importance of memories. She said, "Jesus in taking the ordinary things of life made them extraordinary. He made the Cross into a crown, death into life."

Miss Huffman stressed three factors: gratitude, forgiveness, and service. "Service means putting into action the deeds of our teachings," she said.

Following the sermonette a prayer was given by Harold Patterson and a solo, "Were You There?" was sung by Don Thomas. The benediction was given by John Stuckey.

The last of these pre-Easter services will be conducted Easter morning at 7:30 at the Harding Memorial. This traditional sunrise service has been conducted for the last 17 years by the Harding and Edison Girl Reserves and Hi-Y clubs as a climax to the annual pre-Easter services. Rev. Claire T. CHURCH FILLED FOR PRE-EASTER SERVICE

Miss Margaret Huffman on School Clubs' Program.

The fifth of a series of annual pre-Easter services sponsored by Girl Reserves and H-Y clubs of Harding High school, Miss Margaret Huffman, director of religious education at Epworth Methodist church, spoke this morning to a capacity audience of 750 Harding High school students and faculty members in the Central Christian church.

Following an organ prelude by Mrs. Virgil Curl the congregation sang "When Morning Gilds the Skies." Ann Ferguson gave the call to worship, followed by the morning lesson read by Dorothy Decker. After singing of "Ride on in Majesty," Miss Huffman gave the sermonette.

In her address, "The Cross in Our Today," Miss Huffman emphasized the importance of memories. She said, "Jesus in taking the ordinary things of life made them extraordinary. He made the Cross into a crown, death into life."

Miss Huffman stressed three factors: gratitude, forgiveness, and service. "Service means putting into action the deeds of our teachings," she said.

Following the sermonette a prayer was given by Harold Patterson and a solo, "Were You There?" was sung by Don Thomas. The benediction was given by John Stuckey.

The last of these pre-Easter services will be conducted Easter morning at 7:30 at the Harding Memorial. This traditional sunrise service has been conducted for the last 17 years by the Harding and Edison Girl Reserves and Hi-Y clubs as a climax to the annual pre-Easter services. Rev. Claire T. Crenshaw will give the address. The service will be conducted by Girl Reserves and Hi-Y members with the cooperation of the Vernon Boys' choir and several other choral groups. In the event of bad weather the Easter morning service will be at Trinity Baptist church.

Students in charge of today's service were Bernice Cosey, John Stuckey and Harold Patterson.

U. S. NEWS LEADER URGES FIGHT FOR FREE PRESS

Akron Publisher Reviews Efforts Of American Press.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—Reviewing two years of effort toward world news freedom by the American Society of Newspaper Editors, John S. Knights of Akron, society president, said today ASNE should continue to fight for "freedom of communications everywhere."

Opening the society's 23rd annual meeting, the publisher of the Knight newspapers declared the goal of American editors is "the right of reporters to file uncensored dispatches from any part of the world."

Correspondents, he added, also should have "proper access to the sources of the news."

Knight's report opened a three-day convention which has a decided international flavor this year. Three Russian writers were invited to attend the sessions and participate in a round table discussion later today, along with Wilbur Forrest, assistant editor, New York Herald-Tribune and first vice president of ASNE.

Trygve Lie, director general of the United Nations, will make the principal address at a banquet of the editors Saturday night.

Housing Policy To Favor Vets' Homes Designed for Rental

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—Earmarking of more new homes for rental under the veterans' housing program is being planned today in a projected new code of construction controls.

This is in line with the insistence of housing expediter Wilson W. Wyatt that many ex-GI's cannot afford to buy new homes.

Officials in close touch with the emergency drive said Wyatt was putting the final touches on an order channelling 50 per cent of all residential materials into houses costing well under the $10,000 limit now in force.

The new dividing line will range from about $6,000 in some communities to about $8,500 in high cost areas, according to these authorities who would not be quoted by name.

Half of the construction priorities under proposed new ceilings, they said, will be assigned to builders who agree to rent the completed structures, instead of selling them.

Another clause is designed to prevent all other priority-aided houses from being priced at the $10,000 limit. Before getting priorities, builders would be required to prove to local federal housing officials that the value built into the house has a "reasonable relationship" to the proposed sales price.

BRADY LAKE GAMING CLEAN-UP PROMISED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—The governor's campaign against reported gambling in Brady Lake simmered down today with assurances by the village's mayor, Joseph Cox, that slot machines would be removed.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, after a surprise conference yesterday, said he had been promised their removal by Cox and Portage County Sheriff George Shields.

The governor also referred to reports of elaborate bingo games with prizes as high as $1,500. "I told him (Mayor Cox)," he said, "to find out if the bingo games were being run by a charitable institution.

"I told him it appeared to me it was a commercial venture and without any vestige of charitable purposes, and, if that was a fact, it would have to be stopped."

OPA LIFTS PRICES FOR REFRIGERATORS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18—OPA today raised retail price ceilings on new refrigerators by four per cent over March, 1942 levels to offset higher production costs.

The agency granted manufacturers an eight per cent increase, which it said will be reflected in full at retail.

The retail price hike is less on a percentage basis than the manufacturers' increase because the latter adjustments being passed on in the exact dollar-and-cent amount rather than on a mark-up basis.

The eight per cent increase allowed manufacturers is the first industry-wide price boost granted the industry since the end of the war, OPPA said. It reflects all labor and material cost increases allowable under the new wage-price policy, the agency said.

SOLONS OKAY GI LEAVE PAY

218 of House Members Sign Petition To Give Men Same Benefit as Officers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18 — Hopes of terminal leave pay soared today for millions of GI's as a majority of house members signed on the dotted line in their behalf.

Unless the representatives change their minds, the house on May 13 will vote to give all enlisted personnel, including those already discharged, the same accrued leave pay consideration now given to officers.

On that day the legislation will come before the house automatically under so-called discharge procedure.

The 218th signature to a petition taking the legislation out of the hands of the military committee and putting it on the house business calendar was affixed yesterday.

Budget Threat Seen

Although a military subcommittee had approved the legislation, the full committee shelved it after the budget bureau reported it would conflict with the budget, which made no provision for such an expenditure estimated by the bureau as "several billions."

The fact that a majority of house members signed the discharge petition indicated the budget bureau would be overruled. The house rarely turns down a proposal brought to a vote under discharge procedure.

The legislation would be retroactive to all enlisted personnel who have served since the draft law was enacted before the war started. It stipulates that for all unused furlough time, they must be paid in cash.

Enlisted personnel are entitled to 30 days furlough annually, but unused time is cancelled automatically at the end of the year. Officers are entitled to the same amount of leave, but regulations permit them to carry over unused time from year to year up to a maximum of four months. Upon leaving the service, they receive the so-called terminal leave pay for the unused time.

The house legislation would apply a similar 120-day limit to the amount of furlough time an enlisted man can accumulate, and allow the time to add up at the rate of two and one-half days a month. The latter is the same formula now applying to officers.

The bill provides for a lump-sum payment to enlisted men of all services at the time of their discharge. Men already discharged would have one year to apply for theirs.

Rogers estimated the total cost at between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000, although some estimates have put it as high as $8,000,000,000.

Facsimile Machine Prints Newspaper by Radio in Test

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 18—A radio facsimile machine that prints a four-column newspaper at the rate of 500 words a minute was demonstrated yesterday at the laboratories of Radio Inventions, Inc., a research group engaged in an experimental project sponsored by 20 newspapers and radio stations throughout the nation.

John V. L. Hogan, president of the company, said the facsimile broadcasting equipment was intended eventually to bring newspapers and other printed matter into the American home via radio.

News, photographs, maps, charts and cartoons were reproduced during the demonstration by means of signals from an FM type radio broadcasting station. The machine—just a little larger than a portable typewriter—can be used as an attachment or in combination with an FM home receiver.

The device turns out printed pages measuring 9½ by 12 inches at the rate of 28 square inches per minute.

FM radio station WBAM was used in yesterday's demonstration. Copy at the station, mounted on a cylindrical drum, was scanned by an electric eye and broadcast.

At the receiver in the laboratory, many city blocks away, the copy was reproduced by passing an electrical signal through chemically treated electro-sensitive white paper.

Marshall Faces Job of Saving China's Peace

By RICHARD CUSHING
AP Writer

SHANGHAI, April 18—The delicately-constructed peace engineered by General Marshall in his first three months in China crumbled at its foundations during his absence of less than five weeks.

It is generally believed here that it will take all his diplomacy and prestige to again prop up China's wobbling internal structure.

When the special U. S. envoy left for Washington March 11, that structure looked fairly solid.

Marshall had brought Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang and the Chinese Communists together for a truce. It had been agreed to bring Communist divisions into a national army of 60 divisions, one-fifth its war-time size.

Only a few hours before he left, a Kuomintang-Communist truce committee agreed to send its trouble-shooting teams into Manchuria. It seemed likely a coalition government would be formed while he was away.

Situation Needs Watching

After he left, however, the situation in Manchuria deteriorated to open conflict, suspicions sprouted on both sides and the whole structure of unity was shaken.

Marshall, who carries more prestige in China than probably any other foreigner ever enjoyed, now faces a problem as tough as the one he tackled when he came to China last Christmas at President Truman's request.

Both the Kuomintang and the Communists have praised his work, and not once has a Chinese accused him of bias.

Marshall's first task will be to stop the fighting in Manchuria, which undoubtedly prompted his unexpectedly quick return to China.

His second task will be to persuade the Kuomintang and the Communists to live up to the political agreements they already have made.

Government reorganization to include other parties besides the non-ruling Kuomintang as planned at January's unity conference was checked because the Communists accused the Kuomintang of violating the conference agreements.

Reds Are Suspicious

The Communists are suspicious of the national assembly, scheduled to open May 5 at Nanking to adopt China's new constitution, fearing the Kuomintang majority may ram through legislation preserving its one-party rule under the guise of democracy.

If the Communists refuse to attend the assembly, as they have threatened, it would be a grave setback for Marshall's plans.

CIO PROBES LINCOLN INCENTIVE SYSTEM

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 18—A report on the "incentive system" of the Lincoln Electric Co., where workers share in profits on the basis of work performed, was carried back to Pittsburgh today by an aide to CIO President Phil Murray.

Research Director Harold J. Ruttenberg of the CIO United Steelworkers of America declared following an all-day visit to the plant yesterday "no one can dispute the fact that, compared with Lincoln Electric, management of most other industry is backward."

Ruttenberg, sent by Murray to inspect conditions and investigate the system, emphasized none of his remarks was to be construed as an indorsement and said he would make a written report.

He commented, however, that he saw "no impediment" to its working in a union shop.

Based on piecework, in order that track can be kept of how much a worker contributes to the company's success, the plan was described by President James F. Lincoln as resulting in an average income of more than $5,800 last year for workers.

Employes receive regular pay equal to prevailing rates in similar industries in this area, Lincoln explained, and at the end of the year are given a share of profits on the basis of contributions to the firm's success.

The plan has been criticized by both industry and unions.

U. S. Probes Soviet Role As Iran Puts Lid on All News

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 18 — Iran's sudden resort to drastic news censorship sent the state department on an urgent two-way quest today to determine:

1. Whether the action was Russian inspired, and

2. What the United States might be able to do to get the iron lid lifted.

Indications are that an explanation is being asked from the Iranian government of Premier Ahmed Qavam.

This is expected to show whether there is any connection between yesterday's dramatic imposition of "blind censorship" and the increasing Soviet pressure on Qavam's government because of the still pending row over Iran in the United Nations security council.

The form which Iran chose for control over out-going news is one that was used in Russia from about March 1 or earlier until March 29 but then partially modified.

How It Works

It is known both among newspapermen and within the state department as "blind censorship" because it denies correspondents the opportunity to learn what changes have been made in their censored dispatches. This may be used by an unscrupulous censor to distort the meaning of stories.

The new censorship policy as disclosed to correspondents by the Iranian ministry of posts and telegraphs was reported to Washington by the American embassy at Tehran. A state department announcement said:

Notification will not be given to foreign correspondents when their dispatches are suspended nor will they be given an opportunity by the ministry to make changes or to discuss such suspension of their dispatches * * *."

The start of the censorship was so tight, the embassay told the state department, that reporters were not even allowed to inform their home offices.

Had Been Free

Iran has been a free-news country and, in the opinion of American diplomatic authorities, the steady flow of information out of that country during its continuing dispute with Russia has served Iran's interests well on the whole.

It was this fact which led to strong suspicions among these authorities that censorship may have been imposed at Russia's insistence.

Rare Heart Operation Aids Boy at Cleveland

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 18—Six-year-old John E. Lynch Jr., was reported in "good" condition at Babies' and Children's hospital today after an operation for a rare heart ailment.

The child, son of Captain and Mrs. John E. Lynch, was brought here from Fort Sill, Okla., last Friday. His heart has an open arterial duct, a condition which keeps part of the blood from circulating through the lungs for purification. Normally the duct closes at birth.

The ailment has made it impossible for Johnny to engage in strenuous exercises. If he did, he became nauseated and sick and had to rest until the attack passed, his father said.

"We are very much encouraged by Johnny's condition today and hopeful that his treatment will make it possible for him to do everything a normal boy likes to do," Captain Lynch said.

Indians Set for Home Opener Saturday After Blasting Sox 7-1

Keltner and Reynolds Star; Cubs Renew Hex on Cincy

By The Associated Press

Now that Bob Feller, Allie Reynolds and the Tribe's batters have demonstrated that all are in good shape, the Indians are ready for the home opener Saturday at Cleveland against the Tigers. Red Embree, No. 3 on the pitching staff, probably will do the throwing.

Reynolds' five-hit pitching and Ken Keltner's two home runs had a lot to do with the Indians' 7-1 win over the White Sox in Chicago yesterday, making it two out of two for the start of the season.

Manager Lou Boudreau was happy about Reynolds' pitching. The young right-hander walked only three and fanned four.

Boudreau also was in a good humor about young Hank Edwards' batting ability. Hank made a single and a 440-foot triple, for a total of five hits in two days.

Can Make Difference

"That kid can make a big difference to us," said Lou. "I knew he was the kind of boy who wouldn't freeze, but none of us had dared expect such real hitting as he already has displayed."

It was the veteran Keltner, however, who put on the batting display of the day. He propelled a homer in the fourth with the bases empty and another in the sixth, after Les Fleming's double. The Indians added another run in the sixth, one in the seventh and two more in the ninth for their lopsided win.

The Tribe works out at League park today and tomorrow. Detroit's pitcher for the home inaugural Saturday probably will be righthanded Paul (Dizzy) Trout.

The Chicago Cubs, who last year equalled a major league standard by trimming the Cincinnati Reds 21 times in 22 meetings, are staging an attempt to duplicate the performance this year against Bill McKechnie's weary Redlegs.

Last Innings Fatal

Yesterday's 11-7 triumph coming on the wings of Phil Cavarretta's home run which highlighted a five-run plurge in the ninth inning, was Chicago's second straight win over the Rhinelanders, both victories coming in the final frame.

As in Tuesday's opener when they led the Cubs 3-0 going into the ninth only to lose 4-3, the Reds enjoyed a 7-6 advantage after eight stanzas yesterday, but the Cubs came up with the big five in their last turn at bat for their 23rd victory in their last 24 games with Cincinnati.

Beating the Reds in the final frame is no new experience for the Cubs. Last year the Bruins trailed on six different occasions when they came up for their last licks at the plate, but each time they rallied to down their frenzied fall-guys.

Cincy's Johnny Vander Meer, of no-hit fame, making his post-war debut, and Hank Wyse, the Cubs' 22-game winner last year, opposed each other at the start, but both were not around at the finish. Emil Kush received credit for the victory and Clyde Shoun, third of four Redleg hurlers, was the loser.

A flimsy crowd of 4,529, part of the day's total of 74,207, witnessed the Cubs' triumph which placed them in an early season tie for first with the New York Giants. In contrast, Tuesday's opening day attendance was 236,730.

The largest turnout of the day, 14,330, watched the home-town Detroit Tigers go down to defeat, also in the ninth inning, when the St. Louis Browns counted twice on a pair of hits, two walks and Vern Stephens' fly to defeat the Bengals 7-6. The Browns had whittled the Tigers' lead to one run in the previous inning when Walter Judnich, back after three years in the Army, blasted a two-run homer.

The Giants kept pace with the Cubs by defeating Philadelphia 5-2 for their second straight over the Phillies. The 31-year-old Bob Joyce gained his first National league victory in limiting the Phils to seven blows while the Polo Grounders took advantage of nine walks given up by southpaw Frank Hoerst to score all their runs.

Cleveland and Boston's Red Sox were the only other teams to keep their 1946 slates clean.

The Red Sox staged an old fashioned slugging bee against five Washington throwers which netted them 15 hits and a 13-6 decision over the Senators. Ted Williams and Dom DiMaggio led the Bosox attack, Williams enjoying a perfect day with two doubles, a single and three walks, while Joe DiMaggio's younger brother clouted a three-run homer and tallied four times. Boston's jubilation was softened by the failure of Dave (Boo) Ferriss, its 21-game winner, to last four innings. The 24-year-old sophomore was blasted for eight hits and five runs in 3 2/3 innings.

Bobo Wins One

Philadelphia's Athletics evened their series with the New York Yankees when they hopped on rookie Randy Gumpert, a former Mackman, for five runs in the seventh inning to beat the Bronx Bombers 7-1 before 11,901. Old Bobo Newsom made merry with the Yanks as he silenced their bats with three safeties.

Southpaw Max Lanier celebrated his return to the big leagues by blanking Pittsburgh with seven scattered singles as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Pirates 6-0. The Redbirds combed two Buc pitchers for 13 hits including a triple by Stan Musial and a home run by Enos Slaughter.

Rookie Hank Behrman, A 24-year-old righthander who was purchased from Montreal only last Monday, turned back the Boston Braves with nine scattered hits as Brooklyn evened the opening series with a 4-2 victory.

Gettys of Harding was well in the lead in the mile run and fell down eight yards from the finish line. Richardson finished second after he'd spent himself in the first quarter. Coach George Nelmi said he believed he had good material but tactics would have to be learned by experience.

Last 4 Holes at Canterbury May Keep Scores Way High.

By LARRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer

CLEVELAND—Who'll win the 1946 National Open and what will the winning score be?

Genial Mal McLaren, greenkeeper at Canterbury Golf Club, where the chopping will take place June 13, 14 and 15, won't guess the answer to either question, but will make you a bet this way:

"You pick three fellows out of the field, I'll take the rest of them."

Although he won't go out on a limb, Mal says the most popular figure is 284, four under par and a matter of four 71s for the 72 holes. The guessing ranges all the way from 275 up to 286.

When Sarazen Beat Little

In the 1940 open at Canterbury Lawson Little and Gene Sarazen wound up in a 287 deadlock, with Little shooting a 70 and Sarazen a 73 in the playoffs.

Par is no weakling at Canterbury. This 7,000-yard course, over hill and dale, narrow in many spots, well guarded by nature and golf architects, has no intention of being taken apart or set on fire—not even by Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, Sammy Snead or anyone else.

Only 32 sub-par rounds were recorded in the 1940 Open. There were only 23 par rounds with 201 rounds over par. On individual holes the contestants went over par 2,557 times. Par was hit on 4,623 occasions, with 783 birdies and 18 eagles.

The shortest hole is 170 yards and the longest, the gargantuan No. 16, is pegged as 615 yards.

McLaren says no changes—other than those supplied by nature—will be made for the coming joust.

Mal expects some of the pros might find Canterbury's greens a bit difficult.

"Byron Nelson wasn't too confident about them when he played here in the '40 Open," he recalls.

Most pros agree that Canterbury's greens are "grainy"—which means that the bend of the grass is such as to make them tricky. Putting is like planing a piece of wood. It's difficult to go against the grain or across it. And it's easy to go with the grain.

Two Factors Noted

Two factors may prevent a low score in the Open—the weather and the fact that Canterbury's hardest holes are the last four.

These last four holes constitute a heartbreaking adventure. You may be coasting along with a nice score, visioning a sub-par round—then comes the disillusioning. On any one of these last four holes trouble may snap, and before you realize it, a 6 or 7 may be on the scorecard.

No. 15 is 371 yards and there's nothing to worry about on the downhill drive. The approach is the thing. It is necessary to fire blind to a green hidden by a high bluff and surrounded by traps. It was on this hole in the 1932 Western Open that Denny Shute, pacing the field, ran into a 7 and bowed out.

No. 16, as previously noted, is 615 yards from the back tees, and is played into the prevailing winds. The fairway here rolls from left to right and vice versa, making it difficult to get a good lie for these important booming shots. In a stiff headwind, this hole will be three woods for most contestants.

No. 17 is the 230-yard par three on which Walter Hagen whacked a No. 1 iron to the pin for a birdie that broke Ollie Dutra's heart in the 1932 Western. The plateau green slopes away sharply on both sides and at the front. Any straying in the tee shot will practically guarantee a 4 or more.

The home hole, 441 yards, is uphill all the way, with an out-of-bounds on the right and a big cherry tree and trap about 150 yards from the green on the left. There are no less than eight traps around this green. If the wind is off Lake Erie, the tee shot may well be blown over and past the out-of-bounds stakes. Horton Smith knows about this. It happened to him in the final round of the 1937 Western and threw him into a tie with Ralph Guldahl. Smith lost the playoff.

Much has been written about the wind at Canterbury. Because the course is on the highest point of ground in Cuyahoga county, it is swept by a sturdy breeze nine days out of 10.

Leslie L. Cooke, chairman of the United States Golf Association ball and implements committee, says the ball to be used "must be a ball available to all contestants."

E. G. K. Meister, general chairman for the tournament, says "we are now very hopeful that prewar rubber balls will be available by the time of the National Open. If not, then I understand the USGA would determine on a standard synthetic ball, and everybody would have to play it."

The Open is being renewed after a four-year wartime lapse. Craig Wood won the last Open in Texas in 1941.

They talk about the last four holes at Canterury being tough but just take a look at No. 10. A wide ditch lies in the middle of the 367-yard tenth.

Greenkeeper Mal McLaren tests the feel of the green on the first hole at Canterbury.

Marry England and Judity Francis won the two divisions of the feature 14-bar pace, a $3500 stake on each half.

Toledo's Stranahan To Stage One-Man Invasion of Britain

By GAYLE TALBOT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 18—Frank Stranahan, handsome 23-year-old Toledo amateur, will lead a one-man golf invasion of Britain next month, and those who have played with and against him on this side think he stands a great chance of returning with the British amateur crown, as Jess Sweetser, Bobby Jones, Lawson Little and Charlie Yates did before him.

The first American to try conclusions with the British since the war interrupted play in '39, Stranahan plans to fly across about May 15 and get in several days of practice before title play begins May 22.

He will play the same long, seaside layout—St. Anne's — over which Little won his second straight British amateur in '35, and Lawson, now a ranking professional, feels it is made to order for a powerful drive like Stranahan.

"I'd say he has a good chance of beating the entire British field," Little said. "He's got a fine all-around game and he knows how to play in the wind, which is about the most important thing at St. Anne's."

It will be the first big amateur championship in which Stranahan has competed.

"I qualified sectionally for the National Amateur at Pittsburgh when I was only 15," Frank said with his engaging grin. "It might have been a record. But I didn't qualify for the big event when I got there. Same thing happened at the '41 tournament at Omaha. I was over-golfed for that one, and there hasn't been a championship since."

Since getting out of the service after three years in uniform, Stranahan has followed the pros right around the winter circuit. He didn't win a tournament, but he finished high several times and was leading amateur on numerous occasions. His last important victory was in the Durham, N. C. open in '45.

Player Shortage May Bar Tilt with Schlairet Nine

By JIM DARBY

Preliminary plans are being made to stage an exhibition game between the Marion Cardinals and the local Schlairet Transfer baseball crew Sunday at Lincoln park. Manager Wally Schang will decide Friday if he has enough of a team to put into the field. Game time will be set when the game is definitely arranged.

He is still short a complete infield with the second and third base jobs wide open. Players are expected to report to the tryout school from the Lynchburg, Va., class A and B camp. Some local free agents are also expected to tryout for berths on the squad.

In 1944 the two teams played an exhibition game with the Birds taking the long end of a 16 to 14 score. Last year the Cardinals had to play 14 innings to down Schlairet 6 to 5.

Schlairet Manager Kenneth Somerlot said the return of several veterans should make the local squad a much stronger team than in recent years. John Paulus, a catcher who is strong in the hitting department, is back and will see action, if the game can be arranged.

Schlairet has had about six workouts so far this year either in baseball or softball. Personnel of both Schlairet teams is much the same.

Somerlot said that if the game is played at least three pitchers Dick Mulvaine, King Bacon and Max Roseberry would be used. Max Roseberry is a brother of Joe Roseberry, Cardinal pitcher from Marion, who will probably pitch part of the game for the pros.

The weather man gave the Cardinals a break Tuesday and yesterday and two hour workouts at Lincoln Park were run off both days. Tuesday's practice was confined to batting, pitching and running exercises.

Schang said he is well satisfied with both the hitting and pitching departments. Batters are developing a good eye for this early in the training season.

Yesterday pitchers were given a rest and worked out largely on covering first base. Fungo hitting, running and brisk infield practice was the order of the day.

Newark Banks on Vets

Newark will have very nearly an all-veteran outfit this year, according to the Newark Advocate. First practice Monday saw 38 hopefuls going through their paces.

Manager Bob Boken expects more candidates to tryout before the opener with Zanesville April 30. Among the 38 are 15 pitchers, five catchers, one first baseman, eight infielders, nine outfielders.

Keep Your Jap Souvenir Guns on Mantel, Warns U. S. Expert

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Newsfeatures Writer

DALLAS—Know your weapons before firing them, warns Thurman Randle, one of the world's foremost authorities in the shooting game. Guns that are war souvenirs can do a lot of damage, he finds.

Randle, four times national rifle champion and winner of the British all-around title once, says the shooting game is coming back with a rush and will be running full-scale, including the big-bore rifle matches, by 1947.

Know Your Business

But, he adds, know what you're shooting before doing it.

He cites there has been an alarming number of accidents caused by firing improper ammunition in foreign souvenir guns.

"Anyone who has any type of Japanese gun should hang it over the mantel as a relic of the setting sun and leave it there," Randle declares. "The Japanese guns not only represented poor workmanship and materials but all were off-size compared with those used by other countries and they required special ammunition. There is none available to fit those firearms and there never will be. Anyone who shoots a Japanese gun is risking serious injury.

"Most of the German guns were very good. Their Luger automatic pistol, in which they shoot 9-millimeter parabellim ammunition, will take the United States 9-mm cartridges. So will the P-38 Walther, an excellent gun. The Italians had a fine pistol in the Beretta, whose 7.65-mm shells are identical to our .32 automatics. Then there's the Italian 9-mm Corto, which is identical to our .380 Colt automatic.

Better Check First

"So, American ammunition of the correct size will fit most German and Italian guns. But nobody should shoot one until he has gone to a reputable gun store and definitely determined what the proper ammunition is. These stores have complete catalogues listing detailed information on every gun manufactured anywhere in the world."

During the late war Randle was commissioned with the rank of commander and sent to Washington where he was officer in charge—boss of the Navy's entire small-arms training program. With the help of more than 600 officers and men who sevred as instructors under him, he taught some 2,000,000 sailors the fine art of shooting.

Nolan, who heads the outfit, wants you to understand it isn't just an organization of bad boys although its big job is keeping kids out of trouble.... The Pal had 320 basketball teams last winter and wound up in an inter-city series involving New York, Newark, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Union City, N. J., Yonkers and Nassau county, N. Middle-aged Handball Kings Prepare to Defend U. S. Title

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Newsfeatures

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Handball ... is a young man's ... but there are a couple of ... Memphis who haven't ... told

The ... Sam Atcheson, 44-... paper executive, and Ed ... 37-year-old brewery ... will defend their Na... A.U. Handball doubles championship at San Francisco May 6.

Atcheson is engaging a comeback on the four-wall courts after winning 14 major national championships and encompassing a handball "grand slam" equivalent to Bobby Jones' feat in golf.

"I haven't played competitive singles in a long while because I'm getting a little too old," says Sam, a slight, dark-haired gentleman who looks most unathletic.

"But Ed wanted to go to the National A.A.U. last year and so we did. We surprised even ourselves by coming through."

Nevertheless, Atcheson figures the "old man" tandem has an excellent chance of repeating.

Atcheson, the only handballer to win every major championship, captured the National A.A.U. singles twice. He holds 11 National Y.M.C.A. crowns, doubles and singles.

Dettwiller played in his first national tournament last year and engaged only in doubles.

A.A. OPENERS DRAW OVER 49,000 FANS

Columbus Wins Out 5 to 3; Champ Brewers Bow.

By The Associated Press

More than 49,000 baseball fans witnessed the opening of the 1946 American Association race yesterday, with the largest opening day crowd — 14,169 at Milwaukee — watching the defending champion Brewers bow to St. Paul 6 to 3.

At Louisville, 12,536 persons saw the Columbus Red Birds slam Louisville pitching for a 5 to 3 victory, while Minneapolis opened with a 5 to 4 triumph over Kansas City in the Blues' home park before a crowd of 11,442. In the only night game, Indianapolis opened at home before 11,000 fans and beat Toledo 10 to 4.

An overflow crowd at Milwaukee saw St. Paul knock pitcher Owen Scheetz out of the box in the sixth and go on to win. Eddie Welland got credit for the victory.

Columbus' 13-hit attack was led by right fielder Jim Gleeson, who hit a double and a triple, but Bob Collett and Augie Bergamo contributed three safeties apiece.

Paul Derringer, veteran major league pitcher who was with the Chicago Cubs last season, hurled the Indians to their 10 to 4 win over Toledo although he was slammed for 12 hits, one of them a home run by Less Moss, Mud Hen catcher.

The Silly Side of Sport

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — Here's a links experience which even Bobby Jones, the greatest amateur, and Byron Nelson, the professional kingpin, can not claim in their memoirs.

Very few others can, either. It happened at San Francisco's Lakeside course recently, and the facts are relayed by Paul Leake, newspaper publisher and collector of customs for the port, who also is a genuine golf bug.

Dr. Phil Bill and Rem Roberti, club members, were playing a match. On the second hole, one was on the left of the fairway and the other was on the extreme right.

Each hit a two iron, almost simultaneously. The balls collided in mid-air and dropped in front of the green, swell shots for both.

The two who had participated in a freak shot episode which has few parallels, were not overly impressed with the importance of it, each possibly thinking he might have been up for a four-foot putt, but Newsman Leake sensed a story during the casual locker room post-mortem.

Just what the odds would be to duplicate such a feat, what with all the cubic yards of space involved, is problematical, but offhand it seems like a million to one proposition.

A collision of golf balls in flight is supposed to have happened once in a British championship tournament and the accident reputedly won the title for one competitor and lost it for the other. We find no mention of it, however, in available records.

Frank Menke, the old time sports expert and statistician, records a nifty freak happening as follows: In Melbourne, Australia, Wally Trepaski's ball lay on the fairway. He started his swing, completed it and never hit the ball. His opponent's approach had hit Trepaski's ball and knocked it out of the path of the latter's swing. Ironically, Trepaski was assessed a stroke for missing the ball.

This is a highly interesting oddity but for the time being we will stand on the San Francisco incident involving Dr. Bill and Mr. Roberti whose pellets bumped heads in the air after having sailed some 170 yards. Who knows of a more freakish golfing event?

Fight Fans Set All-Time Gate Record at No-Star Akron Card

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 18—Promoter Bob Heath today apparently had his answer to whether three co-headline fights with no "big name" boxers would draw as many fans as a card with one main bout.

Heath tried the experiment last night and the gate was the largest paid in Akron's history, some 5,564 fans pushing through the Century club turnstiles to the tune of $6,568.

In three eight-round bouts Shamus O'Brien, 184, New York, decisioned Charles Roth, 188, Akron, John Chatbon, 145½, Buffalo, outpointed Chet Martin, 140½, Akron, and Dave Harsh, 136, Akron, stopped Stan Cieslik, 136, Detroit, in the second round. Vince Turpin, 152, Canton, decisioned Bob Maloney, 147, Pittsburgh, in a five-round bout.

CALLS BIBLE GOOD BOOK ON PSYCHIATRY

Delaware Lecturer and Traveler Speaks Before Class.

Although psychiatry is generally considered one of the most modern sciences, an excellent textbook on the subject has been in existence for the past two or three thousand years in the Bible, Mrs. Alma Sheridan of Delaware, lecturer and writer, told the Wednesday noon Bible class at the Y. M. C. A.

Speaking on the subject, "The Bible as a Textbook of Personality Development" Mrs. Sheridan pointed out that most problems of human behavior which send people to psychiatrists today have answers in the Bible. The Book of Proverbs in particular is rich in good advice, she said. "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he," "let not thy anger consume thee," "a soft answer turneth away wrath," "love thy enemies," and other famous quotations from the Bible were cited by Mrs. Sheridan.

Joshua was told not to be afraid, and Paul said, "I count not myself to have made good, but this one thing I do, forget the things which are behind"—these attitudes are necessary to good mental hygiene in any age, Mrs. Sheridan said.

Mrs. Sheridan, a frequent contributor to church and youth guidance magazines, is the wife of the head of the educational department at Ohio Wesleyan university.

Carl Campbell, vice president of the Wednesday noon Bible class, presided at the meeting. Women were present as guests.

HANNEGAN GETS PAT ON BACK BY TRUMAN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17 — President Truman expressed his personal friendship today for Chairman Robert E. Hannegan of the Democratic national committee who has been under the fire of some southern Democrats.

At his news conference Mr. Truman was asked in view of criticisms of Hannegan voiced by some Democratic congressmen, whether he was considering a new chairman to the national committee.

No, the President replied. He added that selection of a chairman was a matter for the national committee.

(Senator Stewart (D-Tenn) has introduced legislation which would operate to force Hannegan either to resign as postmaster general or national chairman.)

The President said he had not talked with Hannegan about a caucus called by Democrats who want to discuss "mistakes" by the national committee.

Mr. Truman observed with a smile that he saw in the newspapers that some Republicans had gotten invitations, which he thought was a good thing.

One reporter mentioned the visit to the White House yesterday of six Democratic senators up for election this year. He said that the senators, who included Mead of New York, quoted Mr. Truman as applauding senate progress on his legislative program.

The reporter wanted to know if the President would tell the press what had been done, and if so when, to spur the congratulations. Mr. Truman only laughed heartily.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"I HOPE your premonition materializes," I told my husband as I made my way to the bedroom.

"But you're plenty doubtful about it," he replied with a wry grin, as I went through the door.

I did not answer him, but instead, threw myself into the business of dressing for the luncheon. I really had little to do, and I worked with such despatch that I was back in the living room a full minute before the time I had named for Mary, Noel and the boys to come to us

"Mes compliments, Madame!" Dicky said. "No old trouper has anything on you as a quick-change. Incidentally, you look especially scrumptious. How about coming over here and letting your old husband buss you as a reward for your speed and your appearance? I trust you regard it as a reward of merit."

"I can't think of anything I'd like better," I said smiling as I went over to his wheel chair. "Only don't muss my hair."

"Madame," Dicky said loftily, "please remember that I have had long experience in this sort of thing."

A Saucy Question

"In many directions?" I asked him saucily, as his arms went around me.

"If the company wasn't due here," he threatened, "I'd make you late for the luncheon for that crack! I'd maul your hair and bite you—and tear your gown and—"

"Better kiss me quickly instead," I advised him, laughing, "for there's the knocker."

He "bussed" me soundly, then released me and I sped to the door. Junior and Roderick stood outside, and before I could close the door again, the elevator stopped down the hall, and Mary, with Noel, came out of it.

The boys had dashed in to see Dicky, so I was free to greet Mary and her husband. Both faces were cheery, but I saw that Mary's eyes were tensely watchful.

Her voice showed no sign of strain, however, as she put a question to me as soon as we were inside the door.

"Do you suppose we have time before we get up for Noel to see Faith in her nurse's costume?" she asked. "I've been telling him about it, and he's crazy to see her."

"She must be something to see," Noel commented warmly. "She's such a fascinating little creature, and she must be something right out of this world in a costume like that."

Any mother will understand how my dislike of Noel's fits of jealousy lessened materially at his praise of my small daughter, and I consulted my wrist watch hopefully, while Junior and Roderick added their entreaties to Mary's query.

"Oh, do let us see her, Mums!" they pleaded, and I cast a glance around the little group.

"Everybody all ready to go out of the door?" I asked.

Best Company Manners

"You bet," my husband said, "and with our best company manners sticking out of our vest pockets. I don't know where you and Mary keep yours."

"Tucked into our belts," Mary retorted absently, and I walked swiftly to the door.

"We have five minutes," I said "and I'll see if I can get hold of Faith in time for you to look her over. But, remember, she must go back before the time for us to leave here."

"We'll remember," Junior and Roderick chorused, and Noel and Mary nodded a more decorous assent.

"Then I'll get her now," I said, and went out of the door.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Why the Baby Cries

Every inexperienced mother is disturbed by her new-born baby's crying. To her, it is a definite distress signal and all her maternal solicitude prompts her to rush relief. Unfortunately, she is often puzzled as to what to do since there is no way for the infant to tell her just what is troubling him.

Dr. Charles A. Aldrich and his co-workers of the Mayo Clinic have made a study of crying in a large number of babies, in order to obtain accurate information as to the amount of crying which occurs and to find the causes. Fifty babies were observed. A record was kept of each period of crying and the possible reasons for it.

Crying Varied

It was found, of course, that the amount of crying varied to a great extent. For example, the baby who cried the least, cried only 48.2 minutes per day while the baby who cried the most, averaged 243 minutes a day or about four hours. The average for all of the babies was about 117 minutes a day.

It was found that the amount of crying increased day by day after birth until the fourth day. From the fourth to the sixth day it remained at a fairly even level and then the amount of crying gradually became less Babies taking their food best seemed to cry the least.

Among the causes for crying noted were hunger, vomiting, and soiled or wet diapers. But the crying for unknown reasons far exceeded that for any of the known causes. Just what is the significance of this crying for unknown reasons is difficult to say

Perhaps it may be a need for fondling and perhaps it is the baby's way of getting some exercise. For the most part a baby cries because he wants something

Change of Environment

It should be remembered, Dr. Aldrich points out, that the new-born baby has undergone a radical change in environment. In the months before birth, the baby has become accustomed to a quiet, dark, warm existence, in which he needs not exert himself at all even to obtain food or oxygen.

All at once he is thrust into independent life and finds that he must work for a living. The lungs must begin to breathe, the throat to swallow food, the stomach to digest it. As if this weren't bad enough, Baby is assailed by all sorts of new and strange, and hence unpleasant, sensations, noise, bright lights, cool and dry air. It would be strange, Dr. Aldrich concludes, if he didn't resent all these changes.

Quite naturally, then, he is going to register protest in the only way he can, by crying.

Nonetheless, it would appear that a great deal of further study of crying in babies is necessary to determine just what are its unknown reasons. Until these are found, Mother can follow only one rule, to do all she can to make Baby comfortable and then, if crying occurs, not to worry about it

SHORTAGE OF COAL THREATENS GALION

Power Plant Is Given Promise of 11 Car-loads.

Special to The Star

GALION, April 18—Although Galion's electric power was threatened earlier this week by a coal shortage, due to the strike, it has been eased some with the promise of shipment of 11 carloads of coal by solid train administration in Cincinnati. While this will temporarily relieve our situation here, Charles Geiger, director of the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant, says that the plant is still operating "from hand to mouth," and that should the shipment not come through, that power would have to be shut off to industry.

There are 10 industrial consumers of the municipal plant who were threatened earlier this week by a close down on Wednesday, before word came that the city would receive 11 car-loads of coal to add to the 14-day supply which was on hand Monday. The power plant uses a car-load per day.

The city had hoped to continue electric service to domestic consumers and public facilities by temporary suspension of service to industry, but that will not be necessary at present if all persons conserve electric current throughout the period of the coal strike.

Ohio Brewery Appeals "Unsanitary" Shutdown

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—The first brewery in Ohio ever closed on charges of unsanitary premises is seeking redress in Franklin county common pleas court.

Youngstown Brewery, Inc., refused a rehearing of last week's closure by the state liquor board, told the court yesterday that the order worked hardships on many of its customers.

The board refused to consider new evidence, the firm's counsel, Herbert S. Duffy, said, and tied up $160,000 worth of beer in the midst of a beer shortage, along with $100,000 worth of machinery.

Referring to testimony at a liquor board hearing that a rat had drowned in one of Youngstown Brewery's beer vats, Duffy said: "This did not come from any of our employes in the building."

And the building described as a firetrap at the hearing, he said, was only used for offices and is now being razed. Duffy said the board refused to consider this.

BUCYRUS TURNS DOWN $9,000 SEWER GRANT

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 18—Bucyrus city council turned down $9,000 in federal funds Tuesday night when councilmen declined to accept a favorable report of the resolutions committee to accept the "loan" for financing a survey of the city's sewage system as proposed by Mayor R. L. Hertzer.

After first protesting that the sum was "too much" for the proposed survey, the resolution committee after a brief recess brought in a report favorable to the project, which, however was lost when council failed to make a motion to accept the report.

According to Mayor Hertzer the sum was granted for the survey of the sewer system, the city to pay back the amount should it decide to proceed with construction of a new sewer system. Only if the city should decide not to improve the sewer system, would the sum be considered a grant, it was explained.

Also coming before city council at its meeting this week was the problem of speeding and double parking which, councilman Shamrock said, had been causing numerous complaints.

Council also heard a report of Prosecutor Paul Kennedy of action directed at securing barracks at Camp Milland for use as housing units. More than 50 requests for such housing units have already been filed in the city, he reported.

Where It Will Stop Nobody Knows

THE decision of the Association of American Railroads for a general 25 per cent increase in freight rates is another example of OPA's progressive retirement before the determined opposition of industry. If the policy should be a Calvary tradition.

The OPA's promise at times to stand, with a single foot, on a given line. But OPA and other plans to get ready [illegible] before the 1950, [illegible] and commercial prices in the face of increasing costs. If the OPA can point to a single instance of serious [illegible] because of [illegible] in quality of the [illegible] we have not been able to find it.

There is no end in sight to the inflationary spiral. On the basis of the railroads' demands [illegible] the railroad employees will be entitled to [illegible] A dollar now [illegible] the purchasing power of a dollar in 1939. Everybody is [illegible] everybody else's prices.

It will imply broadly that everyone is out to [illegible] OPA. It will try to keep the [illegible] of its rulings, sound and otherwise, on the [illegible]. Its stock reply to every accusation is that its premises are justifiable will be to use the same premises for new decisions. Confronted with complaints of a shortage of butter, it will usually prosecution of the politics that have caused butter to be scarce. Confronted with complaints of a shortage of meats and a flourishing black market in that commodity, it will before wartime controls on slaughtering.

In each case it will explain that immediate relief will be forthcoming. Does anybody want to bet that immediate relief will be forthcoming? Even the spokesmen for OPA? Anybody at all?

Anybody Want To Bet on It?

THE OPA's reaction to the [illegible] being turned [illegible] by its critics is typical bureaucratic [illegible] to overcome criticism of what it has [illegible] able to do so far by peddling still [illegible] reports of how. Confronted with accusations of [illegible] policy, it will spread its [illegible] over a still wider area.

Meanwhile it will continue to blame its failures on others—congress, the public, food [illegible] who happens to be handy. Rather [illegible] in local [illegible] throughout the country for its [illegible] to deny all [illegible] unreasonably and [illegible] retailers against its orders.

It will imply broadly that everyone is out to [illegible] OPA. It will try to keep the [illegible] of its rulings, sound and otherwise, on the television. Insoluble Problems

IF THE United States survives its first hard clash with the Pandora's box of national antagonisms and areas of influence, the rest should be relatively easy.

For reasons that do no credit to the good will of the governments concerned, there seems to be a plot to force the new organization to deal with insoluble problems first.

Spain is clearly an insoluble problem. It has taxed the ingenuity of diplomats for 10 years since the beginning of the revolution that put France in power. It had taxed their ingenuity long before that.

The present move by Russia, backed by France and Poland, to oust Franco would solve nothing. Spain would continue to be what it is now—a weak nation that is the battleground for some of the bitterest controversies [illegible] and [illegible] a decadent Europe.

It is conveniently overlooked by those who despise Franco for being the beneficiary of German and Italian intervention during the civil war that the government in power had been and continued to be backed by Russia. Spain's autonomy did not have to wait on France for betrayal. The war for European prestige that finally grew into World War II began in Spain.

The United Nations security council cannot solve the Spanish problem by adopting resolutions. It is clearer than it was before that it cannot solve the Iranian problem that way either—or any of a host of other problems. Perhaps the ultimate wisdom of statesmanship is to know what problems can be solved and what problems must be lived with in the hope that solutions some day may be forthcoming.

Galion Vet Turns His Prisoner of War Dreams Into GI Job with Poultry Farm

Special to The Star

GALION, April 18—On the cover page of the Ohio Farmer, ... is the picture of a Galion boy who was a prisoner of ... Germans for 16 months, and his wife. The full-page ... cover shows Walter Williams, 23, and his wife, Lucy, ... basket of white eggs, ... utes piled around them, ... re "on-the-job training" ... poultry farm in Huron ...

... story about Walter's occu- ... while learning the poultry ... is carried on the inside ... magazine.

... months, long ones, Wal- ... confined in a German ... camp. He was picked up by the Germans at Hanover after he parachuted out of his B-17 bomber which was shot down. Five of the crew lived through the ordeal while five others were killed. This was on Jan. 11, 1944, and it was not until May, 1945, that he was liberated by the Americans.

The article states that during those 16 long months he read and studied to pass the time. Some of his reading and studying was about poultry, and he decided then that if he ever got out of that prison camp, he'd like to get on a poultry farm.

Back in the United States, Walter had heard that on-the-job training was to be provided by the Veterans Administration. He talked with Guy Hummon, county agricultural agent in Huron county, about some poultryman who might be interested in taking him on as a trainee. Clayton Albright who has a laying flock of 2,500 hens was suggested. After that Walter went to the Huron County Veterans Service Commission at Norwalk.

Now Walter is feeding baby chicks, cleaning and grading eggs and doing all of the other work that will give him skill as a poultryman. He is receiving pay from the farm operator and his government allowance for education. He and his wife live in a house on the Albright farm.

That is the gist of the farm magazine story.

Is Galion Graduate

Walter's story from Galion is something like this. The oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Williams of North Market street, he was graduated from Galion High school. Then he went to Park Ridge, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, where he worked for a year in an office. In the same office was Lucy Brockman. In November, 1942, Walter was 20, and was drafted into service. In October, 1943, he and Lucy were married, and the next month he was sent overseas. Two months later he was a prisoner of war.

Neither Walter nor Lucy had ever lived on a farm, but they are working together and enjoying it.

Walter's choice of an occupation is far different from that of his father and grandfathers. His father is stationary engineer at the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant, while his maternal grandfather, Dr. H. H. Hartmann of Galion, is still practicing medicine and for 20 years he was mayor of the city (until 1933). Walter's paternal grandfather, the late J. F. Williams, was a railroad man.

Births Outnumber Deaths in Month

Births outnumbered deaths by 17 in Marion county during March, according to reports from the city and county health departments.

Number of births reported was 69, 68 for the city and one for the county. Reason for the low number in the county is that a majority of county babies are born in Marion city hospital, county health authorities report.

Deaths in the county for last month numbered 12, five female and seven male, and in the city 40, 17 female and 23 male. Total number of deaths was 52.

Total number of deaths in the combined city-county area was six less than in February, when 58 deaths were reported. Total births for February was 88, one less than last month.

Girls exceeded boys by one in last month's birth record. The death record showed 30 males and 22 females.

Programs on the Air

James Melton, the tenor, and his comedy associate Ed Wynn, have just been renewed for another 13 weeks by the sponsor of "Star Theater" over CBS Sundays at 9:30 p. m. Starting the new pact, they'll bring to the program Irving Berlin, America's premier popular composer, on Easter Sunday, when the broadcast will feature four hits from Berlin's new musical comedy smash, "Annie Get Your Gun."

* * *

Hal Peary, star of NBC's "The Great Gildersleeve," will forego his vacation this summer when "Gildersleeve" takes its 13-week summer hiatus in June. Present plans call for Peary to go before the cameras for another flicker in the "Gildersleeve" series based on his airshow.

* * *

The Mutual Broadcasting System will welcome its 300th station—WKRZ, Oil City, Pa.—to its network in a special broadcast entitled "The 300 Party," Saturday at 8 p. m. This is the first time Oil City, heart of Pennsylvania's oil producing country and a region hitherto inaccessible to full network service broadcasts, will be the seat of origin of a national broadcast. With this addition, the leased communications lines linking the MBS network now total 20,697 miles—enough to nearly encircle the globe. Over a score of entertainment acts will be presented from New York, Chicago, Buffalo, Nashville and other metropolitan centers and, of course, from Oil City itself.

* * *

The question, which network gets the June 19 Louis-Conn fight broadcast, now has an answer. It will be ABC on an exclusive basis.

Furthermore, under the signed contract, the sponsor will be the same one (Gillette) who puts on the regular Friday night bouts via this network. There was no announcement as to the sum for broadcast rights, but based on past figures, $100,000 shouldn't be too far away.

ABC expects to have 250 stations in its hookup, including short wave relays to the rest of the world.

Special programs in observance of Good Friday tomorrow are to include: NBC 12 noon, Cantata "Seven Last Words of Christ;" NBC 12:30 p. m. Bible readings by Jane Cowl; MBS 1:15, services at St. Peters Episcopal church, Philadelphia; MBS 2:15, Western Reserve university choir at Cleveland; MBS 4:30, Drama "Autobiography of An Ancient Piece of Silver" from Baltimore; NBC 6:15, Bethany College Oratorio society from Lindsborg, Kan., excerpts from "Messiah."

Dinah Shore, who suffered an attack of laryngitis in her program last week, has not recovered sufficiently to appear on NBC at 8:30 tonight. Tony Martin is to be on hand as guest, however.

JAP PREMIER JOINS PROGRESSIVE PARTY

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, April 18—Lines in the hot political battle over the tenure of the Japanese cabinet drew tighter yesterday as Premier Shidehara abandoned his non-partisan position to become a member of the progressive party.

Simultaneously, reliable sources reported a detailed report on the record of Ichiro Hatoyama, leader of the dominant liberal party who has been criticized by both the Chinese and Russians, had been sent to General MacArthur. Hatoyama hopes to head a coalition government.

The government meanwhile announced a second official draft of the proposed new constitution, providing for secret diet sessions on a two-thirds vote of members and some other changes of moderate importance.

Shidehara's adherence to the progressive party, which won 93 diet seats in the recent election, coincides with previous activities to provide the government with a political basis to refute charges that his cabinet is without representation in the diet.

Japanese sources said the party had agreed to name Shidehara as its head.

The strongest opponent of the Shidehara cabinet is Hatoyama, who stands to be shorn of all power should he be elected unacceptable by allied headquarters.

Reliable informants said the report to MacArthur described Hatoyama as a clever but not too scrupulous politician who is maneuvering to capitalize on the 139 seats his liberal party won in the election.

OSU BANS YOUTH GROUP

COLUMBUS, O., April 18—The Ohio State Youth for Democracy was banned from the Ohio State university campus yesterday after an investigating committee reported the Communist party considered the group as part of its organization.

Fate of the Nation Hanging on Length of Women's Skirts

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—If it gives women's skirts an inch, ponders the government, will they take a foot?

And, if so, will it bring on depression?

This is the momentous issue now before the Civilian Production Administration, which decides such things as how many buttonholes and pockets a female gets these days.

Women's skirts, normally as skittish as a stock market, have been hanging around the same length for four years now. All on account of a dictum known in government circles as L-85.

L-85 says the dress of a size 16 miss shall measure 43½ inches from back of the neck to hemline. Women—sizes 7 to the upper 40's—found their wartime dresses had little leeway below a modest knee.

CPA got its postwar problem when it called in advisors recently to give L-85 a once-over. Everybody was satisfied but the women's dress contingent.

If the order must stay, said the committee, at least give every American woman a one-inch margin on her skirt.

With the one-inch issue squarely before them, CPA's experts (male) in the women's dress division are grappling with these questions:

(1) Will one inch lead to another?

(2) If 35,000 American women take an inch apiece, how many miles of cloth will they use?

(3) Is it true what they say about women's skirts—that when they're up, we're prosperous, when they're down, so is the country?
